

ALEXANDRIA.

MONDAY EVENING JANUARY 7.

THE WHOLESALE grocery business of this city has increased so much during the last few years that it now fully equals that done here during the dark times of Alexandria before the war. The sales are not so large at one time as they were then, but they are more frequent, and in the aggregate amount to just as much. Nearly all the country stores on both sides of the Potomac now obtain their groceries here, and the inland trade has also increased greatly, and is still growing. The coal trade of this city has likewise increased during the last two or three years, the coal merchants here now supplying orders from points as far south as the southern portion of North Carolina. The cause of the increase in the grocery and coal trade of Alexandria is the fact that the merchants engaged therein buy on terms equivalent to cash, and sell at small profit, upon the well-known business principles that articles can always be obtained cheaper for cash, that small profits on many, are more advantageous than large profits on a few sales, and that the vast majority of people would rather buy as near home as possible, provided they can get what they want, and at as cheap rates as farther off. What is true of one business in respect of the matter referred to, would prove to be true of all the others.

A TOBACCO grower from one of the Maryland counties, bordering the river, in this city last week, told his commission merchant that so drowsy were the people of his section of his State for another tobacco market than Baltimore, that if they could sell their crop here they would do so almost to a man, and that so impressed was he with that fact, that if he could sell his farm for what it is worth he would come here and invest the money in the establishment of a tobacco warehouse. He also said that a tobacco market at Alexandria would revive the now dying tobacco growing industry in all the lower river counties of Maryland. Why should Alexandria wait for the gentleman referred to to sell his farm, in order that she may reap the profit of his suggestion?

MR. BLAINE'S appearance in Washington created a stir among newspaper correspondents only, as other people don't appear to take much interest in him, and though his every movement is chronicled, yet his exact object in coming on to Washington is obscure. Yet it does not apparently appear that he has been tendered a portfolio or even invited to a table with Mr. Harrison. However, Mr. Blaine is fond of making notoriety; indeed, if left unnoticed for any length of time he would go out like a candle. He requires snuffing frequently.

THE REPUBLICANS in the U. S. Senate now propose to reduce the tariff on sugar, but to give a bounty to the sugar growers. In other words, of two Southern farmers, one raising sugar and the other corn, the former shall be paid a bounty, but the latter shall not. The justice and equity of such a proposition is so manifestly apparent that no comment is necessary.

MANY OLD saying have no other ground for credence than their antiquity. That this is so in respect of the one which preaches a fat church yard for a green Christmas is made especially conspicuous by the mortality reports of the two weeks that have just elapsed. The weather during that time was unusually mild, but the death rate was unusually low.

THERE SEEMS to be no doubt in the minds of those in the inner circle of republican politicians that Mr. Wansmaker will be a member of the incoming Cabinet, and a distinguished Senator, whose name was frequently mentioned in connection with the presidency, says that the position will be Postmaster General.

IT CAN be almost authoritatively stated that Mr. Barbour will not accept the chairmanship of the democratic organization of this State. It may be as confidently stated that the organization will be decided by the loser should Mr. Barbour adhere to his determination.

GOV. WILSON, of West Virginia, makes the direct charge of corruption against the republican campaign managers in that State and puts the number of illegal votes cast at the recent election at about 6,000.

IF "a green Christmas makes a fat church yard," rich, indeed, will be the soil this year. The weather, indeed, is remarkable and "vastly pleasant," but the probabilities are that "we'll catch it" yet.

VIGOROUS EXERTIONS are still being made to induce Gov. Lee to call an extra session of the legislature. Why the pressure, is only known to the initiated.

THE DOWN stage from Mendocino City, Cal., was stopped near Philo, Thursday night, by a masked highwayman, who, holding a revolver in one hand, took the treasure box from the driver. He then remarked, "Good night, gentlemen." The stage had only gone a few hundred yards when it met the up stage from Cloverdale, and the driver said he also had been robbed.

VIOLETS are all the rage in Philadelphia. The button holes of fashionable men are filled with them, and roses, which once were the delight of all ladies, have been superseded by the fragrant little blue posies. Violets have increased in popularity within the past two years that they sell for three times the price of two years ago.

From Washington.
[Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7, 1889.
As soon as the journal of the House was read this morning that body resumed the consideration of the resolution to change the rules so as to take from the minority the power to delay legislation. In consequence of the telegrams that had been sent to absentees, about two hundred and fifty of the three hundred and twenty five members of the House are now in the city. The opponents of the resolution express their determination to persist in their efforts to defeat it if possible, and to resort to all sorts of parliamentary filibustering to accomplish that object.

In the Senate to day when the routine business had been concluded the Edmunds' resolution warning foreign governments against taking any part in the completion of the Panama canal came up, but on motion of Mr. Sherman the galleries were cleared, and the debate on it conducted in secret session. Representatives of Nicaragua and of some of the other Central American governments who were in the diplomatic gallery with ears keen set to hear what was said, were not little surprised as well as disgruntled at being summarily hustled out by the doork keepers.

Representative J. R. Brown, of the Danville district in Virginia, republican, who was defeated for re-election last November, says he will be a candidate for doorkeeper of the next House if the republican caucus shall determine to give that place to the South, and that all the re-elected Southern republicans with whom he has talked on the subject have expressed themselves as favorably disposed towards him.

Representative Lee of the Alexandria district tried to get the report of the House District of Columbia Committee, appropriating $10,000 to keep the Potomac river between this city and Alexandria open during the remainder of the winter, before the House last Saturday, but Mr. Reed objected. General Lee is on the lookout to day and will repeat his effort if an opportunity shall occur.

The prevailing impression here about the reported sale of the Post, of this city, is that Mr. Hutchins still retains a firm hold upon the property. The friends of Messrs. Hutcheon and Wilkins, the reported purchasers, to the contrary, say the sale is a bona fide one.

Representative Gaines, of the Petersburg district, has returned and was in his seat in the House to day. He says there is nothing in the talk about anti-Mahone republicans in Virginia, and that he does not believe there are one hundred and fifty of such people, a told, leaders and followers, in the whole State. Representative Brown, of the Danville district, in the same State, corroborates this statement of Mr. Gaines, and says he knows of only one anti-Mahone republican in his entire district. Ex Representative Libby, of the Norfolk district, to the contrary, says that everybody in the Petersburg, General Mahone's own district, knows that ninety per cent. of the republicans of that district are opposed to Mahone. He also says that General Mahone has no more chance of a place in the next cabinet than of one in the privy council of Queen Victoria. It is reported here that a delegation of Mahonites will leave on Thursday night for Indianapolis, to call on the President and represent to him the entire fitness of General Mahone for a cabinet position. The General's opponents, however, say that Mr. Harrison is perfectly familiar with his manners and his morals, and that it is absurd to talk about the only man who made the reputation of the Virginia district, having a place in Mr. Harrison's cabinet.

No cases of any general interest were decided by the U. S. Supreme Court this morning. Only six members of the court were on the bench, Justice Bradley being the only one to the right of the Chief Justice. General B. F. Butler was in court, but was called out and away by a note. The General is very fat now, as well as old, and when he moves about requires the services of an attendant.

Judge R. W. Hughes, of the U. S. District Court of Virginia, and his wife, are the guests of General Joseph E. Johnston in this city. If a cabinet position shall go to Virginia under the next administration it is more than probable that Judge Hughes will be the recipient.

The funeral of the late M. W. Galt, of this city, took place this morning, and was numerously attended. Among those present were Messrs. Ned Hunt, John Beckham and Jack Brown, of Alexandria.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Eugene Barnes, who was convicted of embezzlement in Accomac County Court Thursday, and sentenced to the penitentiary for nine years, was released from jail Saturday on the ground that the jury that convicted him was impeached contrary to law.

A Mormon elder, James Mohler, formerly of Ohio, is engaged in gathering a congregation in Augusta county, where he has immersed fourteen persons. He speaks of erecting a church in that county, but the people will prevent it as soon as the first batch of converts starts for Utah.

The Victoria Iron Furnace and Mines, located at Goshen, on the line of the Chesapeake and Ohio R. R., Rockbridge co., with a capacity of two hundred tons of iron daily and owned by an English syndicate, were leased on Saturday to the firm of Chamberlain, Wheeler & Co., Columbus, Ohio, who will at once put the furnaces in blast and the mines in operation.

Joseph H. Sherrard, aged eighty eight years, died in Winchester yesterday.

A PLUCKY TEXAS SHERIFF.—Deputy Sheriff Moore, on Friday night arrested Jack O'Brien at Garland on a charge of burglary, and started to take him to Dallas for safe keeping. While at the depot at Garland a mob of masked men took O'Brien from his custody and hung him to a tree near by. Moore rushed into the mob, but O'Brien down and fled with him. The mob caught him and again hanged him. Moore in pursuit, rushed in with a revolver in each hand and again cut O'Brien down. Both parties opened fire and several lynchings were wounded. Moore rescued Dallas with his prisoner on Saturday.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

E. J. Wetherell, the husband of Emma Abbott, the prima donna, died in Denver, Col., yesterday, of pneumonia.

The German emigration for the 1888 was 96,000, against 97,000 in 1887. The bulk of the emigration was to America.

It is reported from Port au Prince, Hayti, that President Legitime's forces have been defeated, and that fearing the capture of Port au Prince by Hyppolite's army, he has fled to the French government to seek warships to sustain him in power.

A collection was taken up in the new Summer Avenue Methodist Church in Brooklyn yesterday, to pay off the indebtedness for building the church. Bishop N. Wm. preached and Rev. C. H. Payne made a few remarks, after which $10,000 was collected.

The steamboat Paris C. Brown, from New Orleans for Cincinnati, struck a snag at Hermitage Landing, Pointe Coupee Parish, at 9 o'clock Saturday night, and sank to the hurricane deck. Five of the cabin crew, two firemen and one passenger are missing.

The members of the Columbia Turn Verein, of Lake, Ill., on Saturday presented a petition, through Senator Cullom, recommending Congress to make an appropriation sufficient to pay tutors to instruct Mr. Blair in the rudiments of history and other branches taught outside of Sunday schools.

Patama Canal bondholders have addressed a letter to M. de Lesseps offering him the chairmanship of a new canal company to be formed by shareholders in the present company. The new company will have a capital of several million francs and will take the concern from the old Patama company.

A suit for damages was begun against Circus Proprietor Adam Forepaugh in Philadelphia on Saturday on behalf of Buffalo Bill, who claims that business with his Wild West Show has been injured by Mr. Forepaugh's "imitating and trying to appropriate the success" which the plaintiff's show has attained.

Lewis Fuchrer, a new hand at the business, pulled the wrong throttle and sent the cage crashing down the 600-foot shaft of the mine of the Connelville Coke and Iron Company, at West Leisenberg, Pa., Saturday. The blunderer and Wm. McFerran and Wm. Shearer, who were in the cage, were mangled beyond recognition at the bottom of the shaft.

Corla Belle Fagan, a girl of 11, has applied to the chief of police at New Albany, Ky., for protection. She said that seven years ago, when but seven years of age, while playing on a street in New York, where she lived, she was kidnapped by a negro. She remembered nothing more until she found herself in Nashville, where she was confined in an old disheveled shanty until last July, when she made her escape.

Rev. Frederick Bell, pastor of the Central Christian Church of Columbus, Ohio, who is under a cloud with his congregation and who recently applied for a divorce from his wife, who is in England, is getting deeper into the mire. On Wednesday night, after the usual prayer meeting, he had a fight with an aged member of his church named Pinn, who denounced him as a rascal. They tumbled over the pews in the church and were finally parted.

Michael Rizzio, an Italian laborer, known as "Red-Nosed Mike," who was arrested near Wilkesbarre, Pa., Saturday, has confessed to his participation in the murder of paymaster J. B. McClure and Hugh Flanagan, on October last. He says there were four men connected with the crime. He told the detectives where the rifle, revolver and satchel used were secreted, and they were recovered.

The North German Lloyd steamer Main, while coming into the port of Baltimore on Saturday evening, ran into the steamer Montana which was lying at the mouth of the Patuxent river, striking her and cutting her nearly through. R. M. Young, chief engineer of the Montana, was crushed to death. Two hundred and fifty cattle on the Montana were drowned. The total loss is placed at $100,000. The Montana will, if possible, be raised at once.

At a diplomatic dinner given by him in Berlin Saturday Count Herbert Bismarck, speaking to Count von Hatzfeldt, the German minister to England, promised, under request of the Emperor, to exonerate Sir Robert Morier, the British ambassador to Russia, from any charges connected with the Bazaine incident. This result was communicated to Morier, who expressed himself as dissatisfied. He says that as official prints make the charge there must be an official withdrawal.

It is said that the West Virginia legislature, which will assemble next Wednesday, cannot reach a conclusion in the Goff-Fleming contest. The session will last but forty five days, and as Goff has thirty days in which to file his answer and the legislature has forty days afterwards in which to take testimony, the session would be legally at an end before the evidence was all in. On the 4th of March Goff will take the oath of office. If no member of the Supreme Court of Appeals will administer the oath other judges can do it.

Saturday night fire destroyed the two residences at Wayne of City Editor McWade, of the Ledger, and Mr. J. H. Tighe, a merchant of Philadelphia. Mr. McWade had great difficulty in rescuing the occupants. He rescued two of his neighbor's children at some peril to his own life, and had to use force to remove a lady who was seized by fire from a own house. He was uninjured, and estimates his loss at $16,000, including a valuable library. Mr. Tighe's loss is $3,500. Mrs. Jones, a sister in law of Mrs. Tighe, was driven crazy by the excitement and had to be taken out of the house by force.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

Proceedings of Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7. SENATE.

The resolution reported from the Committee on Foreign Relations in reference to the Panama Canal was taken up, and Mr. Gray rose to make some remarks, but was interrupted by a motion made by Mr. Edmunds and seconded by Mr. Hoar that, in the consideration of that subject the doors be closed. The galleries were accordingly cleared, the doors closed, and the Senate (at 12:35) proceeded to the discussion of the subject in secret session.

HOUSE.

Immediately after the reading of the journal the contest over the proposed change of rules, abolishing the call of States on suspension Monday, was resumed. Mr. Reed, of Maine, calling up the resolution reported from the Committee on Rules. The pending question being on ordering the previous question, the Clerk proceeded to call the roll.

The vote resulted yeas 112, nays 22—20 less than a quorum; and a call of the House was ordered. The call developed the presence of 226 members, and, the further proceedings under the call having been dispensed with, the vote was again taken on ordering the previous question upon the resolution.

Again the quorum faded away, the vote standing yeas 136, nays 15, and another call of the House was ordered.

Killed by a Goat.

LARAMIE CITY, Wyo., Jan. 7.—The overland fast freight train on the Union Pacific road yesterday brought in the mangled body of James Sumner, a brakeman, who had been thrown from the top of the train by a goat while the train was at a high rate of speed. The animal belonged to a theatrical company and got on the train at Cheyenne. It is supposed, from a low shed adjoining the water. After the train left Cheyenne the goat chewed the bell cord awhile and then drove two of the brakemen to the caboose where they remained in mortal terror, believing the animal was a wild cat. Sumner was on the front of the train and had not seen the goat until the latter rushed at him full tilt. In the darkness he staggered, lost his balance and fell from the train. His companions peering over the top of the car saw his lamp go out. The train was stopped as soon as possible and run back. Sumner's body was found lying beside the track. His neck had been broken. A cow-boy lassoed the goat when the train had arrived here and the coroner ordered it to the pound pending the inquest.

Trouble Expected.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Jan. 7.—There was considerable excitement in this city during yesterday over expected trouble at Arcola, Washington county, Miss. Several negroes were arrested there some days ago charged with burning Col. Paxton's residence. I was stated by one of the negroes that the plot was to murder the family also. The latter part of the programme however, was not carried out. It is stated that the prisoners succeeded in making their escape. The cause of the excitement is that negroes in that vicinity have assembled in considerable numbers and threaten vengeance. About fifty Winchester rifles were sent from this place to Arcola yesterday morning. A train was held in readiness all day yesterday and on receipt of the first news of danger, the Southern, under command of Captain Searls, will leave for that point.

Sundry Civil Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The sundry civil appropriation bill was completed to-day by the House Committee on Appropriations and will be reported to the House later in the day if opportunity offers. The bill carries an aggregate appropriation of $22,852,996, being $67,214,451 less than the regular and special estimates, and $3,769,008 less than the appropriation for the current fiscal year.

Cutting Affray.

HUBBARD CITY, Tex., Jan. 7.—In a cutting affray at Prairie Hill, 12 miles from here, Saturday night, Kirk Davis was dismembered, dying in a few hours, and R. A. Cramer, proprietor of the Commercial hotel of this city was fatally wounded. Day was a tenant on Cramer's farm. The quarrel was the outgrowth of a lawsuit between the parties which Cramer had won.

Fire.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The mansion of Hon. Percy Seaven Wyndham was destroyed by fire last night. The children of Lady Elcho, Mr. Wyndham's daughter, who were in the house were rescued in their nightgowns. Lord Stalbridge directed the firemen in their efforts to extinguish the flames. The pictures and plate were saved. The loss is £100,000.

Struck by a Train.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 7.—Princess Lieven while sleigh riding at Charkoff, attempted to cross the railway track at that place. A train struck the sleigh and killed the coachman. The Princess was hurled from the sleigh to the middle of the track, where she lay senseless. The train passed over her but did her no injury.

Nine Persons Drowned.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 7.—Nine persons lost their lives by the sinking of the steamer Paris C. Brown near Hermitage Landing, Saturday night.

Judge Beach, of the Supreme Court of New York, to-day refused to interfere with the action of the trustees of St. Patrick's Cathedral in declining to permit the body of old John McGuire to be buried in Calvary cemetery.

VIRGINIA TEMPLARS.—A letter from Richmond to the Petersburg Appeal says:

"The two commanderies of Knights Templar here are making arrangements to attend the triennial grand encampment of the United States next October in Washington; or rather they have appointed committees to ascertain about accommodations, expenses, &c. Some of the members of Richmond Commandery No. 2 propose that quarters be secured in Alexandria so as to avoid the gorge prices of the national capital during the great crush. But in the discussion in the commandery the sentiment of the majority was against the Alexandria scheme. It was decided that unless the commandery could go to Washington in first class style it would be better not to go at all. No. 2 is the oldest commandery and is the largest, I believe, in the State, but the other commandery—St. Andrew, No. 13—embraces more rich members than any Masonic body in this part of the country. The chairman of the committee on quarters says that the Washington hotel people have agreed upon very fancy prices and are booking very rapidly."

According to Mr. Wines, who has made an intelligent study of the criminal statistics of this country, in 1850 the ratio of persons imprisoned for crime to population was 290 to the million; but in 1880 it was 1169 to the million.
